Cedar Compass Travel

Business profile | Fictional course project

Identity and mission

Cedar Compass Travel is a fictional Beirut-based travel agency helping small groups plan relaxed cultural trips with clear package inclusions. Our mission is to make thoughtfully paced travel easy to understand and personalize. Our value proposition is small groups (maximum 8 travelers), local guides, transparent example prices, and itinerary planning around customer interests. Founder Maya Haddad designs cultural itineraries. Co-founder Karim Nasser coordinates suppliers. Travel advisor Lina Mansour handles customer inquiries. The chatbot is Mira, our friendly virtual travel concierge.

Contact and hours

Our fictional office is in Hamra, Beirut, Lebanon. We answer inquiries Monday through Friday, 09:00-17:00, Asia/Beirut time. Our fictional contact address is hello@cedarcompass.example. These are simulated business details, not a real agency or booking service. The assistant can record interest and feedback; it cannot send emails, reserve places, process payments, or confirm a booking.

Example packages - all prices are USD per adult, with double occupancy

1. Lebanon Slow Weekend: 3 days / 2 nights; USD 420 per adult. Visits Beirut, Byblos, and Batroun. Includes two hotel nights, two breakfasts, a local guide, and ground transfers within the itinerary. Excludes flights, other meals, insurance, and personal purchases.

2. Istanbul Culture Escape: 5 days / 4 nights; USD 790 per adult. Includes four hotel nights, four breakfasts, airport transfers in Istanbul, and two guided cultural walks. Excludes flights, visas, insurance, lunches, dinners, and optional activities.

3. Jordan Heritage Trail: 4 days / 3 nights; USD 680 per adult. Visits Amman, Petra, and Wadi Rum. Includes two hotel nights, one desert-camp night, three breakfasts, itinerary ground transfers, a guide, and entry to Petra. Excludes flights, visas, insurance, other meals, and personal purchases.

Services and customer follow-up

Services and policies

We offer custom itinerary consultations, couples' trips, and small-group cultural itineraries. The consultation fee is USD 30 per itinerary, credited toward the package total if the customer proceeds. Custom-trip prices require a staff quote; single-room supplements and child rates are not published. All package prices are illustrative course data, not live offers. Dates, room availability, flight fares, seasonal adjustments, accessibility needs, and dietary arrangements require staff confirmation. No live inventory is connected. Quotes are valid for 7 days after staff issues them. After written staff confirmation, a 30% deposit is due; the balance is due 14 days before departure. Cancellation terms are provided with each written quote; there is no universal published cancellation fee. We do not determine visa eligibility or provide current border/entry rules; customers should verify requirements with the relevant official authorities and the human advisor.

Customer interest and feedback

A lead is someone asking for a quote, consultation, booking assistance, or follow-up, including staff clarification of an unanswered business question. For every unanswered business question, log it and automatically ask for missing contact details: name first, then email. An explicit callback request is not needed. Once both are supplied, save a lead with the original question and any travel-interest notes. Reuse contact details already supplied in this conversation. Dates and budget are optional. Contact sharing is optional; respect refusal, keep the question logged, and do not pressure the customer. Answerable informational questions and pure feedback do not require contact collection unless the customer requests follow-up. Feedback, complaints, suggestions, and business questions not answered by this profile should be recorded for staff review. Logging does not notify staff automatically and does not promise a response time. Customer records are stored locally for this assignment and are not shown to other customers.